

Dear friends,

I have been honored to serve as Executive Director of Cancer Patient Care. It is with much pride and confidence that I turn over the reins of the organization to our very capable staff and board as they search for a new Executive Director. We have come far as we have worked together to build a firm foundation for this wonderful organization that means so much to the cancer patients and communities it serves. Your support as partners of CPC, contributing your valuable time, talent and treasure is what makes all this possible. I thank you for the partnership and the support you showed me during my time as Executive Director and will always cherish the moments we shared and goals we achieved. Best wishes for future success to all who help make Cancer Patient Care the servant leader organization it is and always will be.

Cliff Evans SFO

